

LUCY BEAUMONT

WE CAN TWERK IT OUT

She's got the timing of Les Dawson....an absolute natural Johnny Vegas

After phenomenal sold out runs at the Soho Theatre last week and Edinburgh festival in August, BBC New Comedy Award winner and Foster's Best Newcomer nominee LUCY BEAUMONT has announced a second set of dates for her debut show We Can Twerk It Out in London. From January 19th-21st 2015, LUCY invites you into her world again on the North East coast with a biographical journey of the last three years of her gigging life at the Soho Theatre.

LUCY's surreal and offbeat humour has seen her enjoy a fast rise to stardom. She has won multiple accolades including the BBC New Comedy Award, the Chortle Award for Best Newcomer in 2012 and she was runner up in the Gilded Balloon's nationwide stand-up competition So You Think You're Funny?

Quickly becoming an established voice on the airwaves as both an actor and writer, LUCY presented her own BBC Four radio special in 2013 which was hosted by JOHNNY VEGAS. Her sitcom pilot To Hull and Back was broadcast in June on BBC Radio Two and is currently being developed in to a full series. Further credits include; The Unbelievable Truth, Dilemma, History Retweeted and The Magical Faraway Tree directed by JOHNNY VEGAS (all BBC Radio 4), The Land of Green Ginger and Baby bird (both Radio 3) and Crush, a 90-minute monologue for Radio 4 which received a Silver Sony Radio Award. LUCY has also performed on BBC Three's talent showcase Live at the Electric.

LUCY was mentored in 2008 by Jeremy Dyson as part of a BBC initiative to find new northern comedic voices; subsequently she went on to write Bananas are Blue, a one-woman play which was produced by Theatre by the Lake and previewed at the Manchester Theatre festival in 2010. LUCY has performed in various theatres and toured nationally and in 2013 was part of The Comedy Zone, the Fringe's longest running and most prestigious new talent showcase at Edinburgh Festival.
