

THÜNDERBARDS TAKE THEIR GREATEST HITS ON TOUR

Without question one of the funniest sketch shows on the Fringe
GQ

Comedians, actors, writers and nice young men Glenn Moore (Mock The Week, BBC Two) and Matt Stevens (Sketchorama, BBC Radio 4) are set to parade their greatest comedy skits and sketches nationwide as their critically acclaimed sketch duo alter-egos Thünderbards from January 2018 through to May 2018 following a celebrated month-long run at the Edinburgh Festival Fringe.

With their high-energy, fast-paced style quickly gaining them a reputation as “one of the UK’s most promising emerging sketch acts” (Ed Fest Magazine), this tour will see the UK’s most thunderous bards deliver their favourite blink-and-you’ll-miss-it sketches in their trademark blend of off-beat sketches, off-beat characters, and off-beat jokes.

2017 saw Glenn and Matt take their fourth show 4nd to the Edinburgh Festival Fringe, following 2015’s Chapter III, 2014’s Seconds, and their 2013 self-titled debut. They’ve also appeared on BBC Radio 4’s Sketchorama, and are staff writers on the CITV’s flagship sketch show Scrambled. Away from Thünderbards, Glenn has toured the UK as a stand-up supporting Dave Gorman, Lee Nelson, and Josie Long before making his Mock The Week (BBC Two) debut this September. His 2016 solo show Glengarry Glen Glenn was nominated for Best Debut Show at the Leicester Comedy Festival, and was one of the best-reviewed debut shows of last year’s Edinburgh Fringe as was his second solo show The Very Best of Belinda Carlisle. Matt is an improviser with one of London’s leading long-form improv acts, Do Not Adjust Your Stage. The group has enjoyed residencies at the Natural History Museum and the National Gallery. As a member of DNAYS, Matt has performed sell-out shows across Europe and the USA, including at New York’s renowned UCB Theatre, London’s Soho Theatre and the COP21 Climate Conference in Paris.

What the Press Has Said About Thünderbards:

Tight, punchy and solidly funny The Guardian
Laugh out loud funny The Scotsman
Hugely entertaining Daily Mail

A charismatic duo with a tight grasp on timing and absurd asides, with a lot of clever wordplay and snappy lines. Impressive stuff
