

SOHO THEATRE RUN ADDED FOR COMEDIAN AND THE LOL WORD CO-FOUNDER CHLOE PETTS AHEAD OF HER DEBUT UK TOUR

"Slick live sets... Chloe Petts engineered big, maladroitness laughs by confusing hand sanitiser with lube and spotting lesbians on daytime TV."

Brian Logan, The Guardian

"She is confident, laid-back, casual – and very funny."

Ella Braidwood, The Guardian

"compelling presence"

Steve Bennett, Chortle

"inexhaustibly funny mind"

One of the most exciting new acts on the comedy circuit, rising star Chloe Petts (Hypothetical, Jonathan Ross' Comedy Club and The Stand-Up Sketch Show) announces her first solo run of her debut show, Transience, at London's Soho Theatre from Tuesday 3rd to Saturday 7th May at 9.00pm ahead of her UK tour for 2022. A brilliantly sharp live performer, in this debut hour Petts uses her trademark cerebral "laddishness" to examine her desperate attempts at living in the moment, the darts and her (strictly non-romantic) love for men.

Co-founder of The LOL Word, an all women and non-binary queer comedy collective "transforming comedy" (The Guardian) regularly hosting sell-out monthly London nights, Chloe is an alumna of the prestigious Pleasance Comedy Reserve, has been shortlisted for the BBC Comedy Award, was a finalist of Leicester Square New Comedian of the Year Awards 2017 and came runner-up in the Funny Women Awards 2017. As well as supporting Ed Gamble on his Electric 2022 UK tour, she has performed alongside Josh Widdicombe and Sindu Vee.

Chloe's TV and radio credits include Jonathan Ross's Comedy Club (ITV), The Stand-Up Sketch Show (ITV2), Random Acts (Channel 4), Hypothetical (Dave), Fighting Talk (BBC Radio 5 Live) and she has also appeared on BBC Three Quickies. In 2020, Chloe featured on Penguin's audiobook Edinburgh Unlocked which was recorded in absence of the Edinburgh Festival Fringe.
