

COMEDIAN, ACTOR AND PODCASTER TRAVIS JAY BRINGS BRAND-NEW SHOW, 'SON OF DAVID', TO LONDON'S SOHO THEATRE

"Travis Jay shows he is a polished performer with the wit and charm to say important things to the masses without them even noticing" Nooruddean Choudry, JOE

"a triumph of attitude... energetically entertaining" Steve Bennett, Chortle

"he's amazing" Dave Chappelle

Following his sell-out show at London's Bloomsbury Theatre last year and a critically acclaimed Edinburgh Festival Fringe debut in 2019, Travis Jay brings his brand-new show, Travis Jay: Son Of David, to London's Soho Theatre, Downstairs for a week-long run from Tuesday 21st to Saturday 25th June at 9.00pm. This show promises to be his most raw and honest one yet as Travis takes an introspective look at his life after experiencing therapy and compares his childhood to his fatherhood.

Going from strength to strength, Travis has had a busy few years writing for the revival of the classic hit show Spitting Image (BritBox) with recent TV appearances including Black, British and Funny (Channel 4), The Stand Up Sketch Show (ITV2), Late Night Mash (Dave), Drunk History (Comedy Central) and The Artists (Channel 4). He is the creator and co-presenter of the popular weekly boxing podcast Undefeated, with fellow comedian KG tha Comedian. Travis was nominated for The Leicester Mercury Comedian of the year in 2016.

Travis has supported Dave Chappelle on his Sticks & Stones London tour and Britain's Got Talent Golden Buzzer winner Kojo Anim on his nationwide Taxi tour, as well as performing alongside Katherine Ryan, Jon Richardson, Rob Delaney and Russell Howard. In 2018 Travis was filmed while performing alongside Dave Chappelle as part of the production Dave Chappelle and Friends directed by Stan Lathan, with the year before closing the year out performing to a sold out crowd at the famous West End Palladium Theatre as part of the U Got Jokes comedy show, with his performance receiving particularly high acclaim.

More praise for Travis:

"A confident and engaging performer... plenty of laughs throughout... a fresh and funny perspective that anyone in the audience would be enlightened by." Ross Crae, Sunday Post

"Confident, competent and clear on his comedic voice" Elliot Gonzalez, iTalk Telly

“very funny” Jay Richardson, The Scotsman

“Impeccable impressions...extremely likeable and hilarious” Callum Wilson, Edinburgh Festivals Magazine

“Laidback yet cleverly astute... Travis Jay’s finely-tuned set displays his versatile comedic chops, with the warm delivery of an old friend.” Aisha Josiah, FringeBiscuit
